

DARFUR: THE STATISTICS

The conflict in Darfur, the western region of Sudan, entered its fifth year in 2008, despite a 2006 peace agreement between the government and one of the factions of the rebel Sudan Liberation Army (SLA). According to the UN¹, as many as 300 000 people may have died since the beginning of the conflict². The clashes have displaced more than 90,000 people since January of this year, causing them to move to other regions of Darfur or across borders, such as to Eastern Chad. Since 2003, the complex conflict in Darfur has affected 4.2 million people, including more than 2.4 million internally displaced persons (IDPs).
